

Russia Asks Conference To Reject Italy's Trieste Claim

By ROBERT HEWETT
Paris, Sept. 5 (AP)—Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Russian Deputy Foreign Minister, called on the 21-nation peace conference today to "reject emphatically" Italian claims to disputed Trieste.

Outlining Soviet Russia's stand on the leading territorial issue before the post-war conference, Vishinsky said that Yugoslavia has an "unquestionable right" to Trieste. He said the Soviet Union was supporting the Big Four agreement to make a free territory of the port only because of "political consideration."

The Russian diplomat, in a speech before the Italian political and territorial commission, accused Ivanoe Bonomi, former Italian premier, of "cloaking annexations with the flag of justice" in claiming the important Adriatic port for Italy.

Fourth Day of Debate
Vishinsky made it plain that Russia would abide by the Big Four Foreign Ministers decision to create the free territory of Trieste but declared sharply:

"Yugoslavia has an unquestionable right to the port and town of Trieste. The decision of the Foreign Ministers contains a minimum of justice. In our opinion it should contain a maximum of justice."

"But sometimes it is not possible to have a maximum of justice in dealing with political considerations. Sometimes when we are dealing with politics two and two don't make four—sometimes they add up to five."

Russia's voice in the Trieste dispute was heard on the fourth day of debate on the Adriatic settlements. Italy and Yugoslavia have filed conflicting claims for the port, and Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.) yesterday declared the United States wants to see an autonomous Trieste government "that will command respect of both Yugoslavia and Trieste."

MOUNT TO HAVE LARGE STUDENT BODY THIS YEAR

Mt. St. Mary's college at Emmitsburg will resume its pre-war schedule this month when it opens with the largest enrollment in its history. At present 597 students have arranged to attend the school during the coming year. Of that number, Registrar John Roddy said today, about sixty per cent are veterans.

The school during the war conducted a "speeded up" program with classes continuing throughout the summer and graduates completing their work in three years. This fall the college plans to resume the normal four year periods of instruction due to a belief that students need the summer vacation period in order to assimilate the instruction given during the ordinary terms.

About 40 of the students will be housed in Emmitsburg, according to present plans, while construction of barracks is completed. Army-type barracks for some of the students will be built with the work expected to be completed December 1 in order to alleviate the shortage of lodging accommodations at the establishment.

Faculty Increased
Freshmen at the school will register September 16 and start their classes the next day while the upper classes will register on September 17 and begin their classes on September 18.

A number of new members have been added to the faculty at the school because of the increased enrollment. Among them are William A. Osborne, who will be a member of the history department. Osborne, a graduate of St. John's College, Brooklyn and Niagara University recently was discharged from the army. He served as a captain in the U. S. Air Force in Africa and the Middle East during the war.

Thomas Dillon, Pittsburgh, a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh and a former lieutenant colonel in the army, will become an instructor in the Business Administration department.

INVESTITURE SERVICE HELD

At an investiture service Wednesday evening at Trinity Lutheran church, Arendtsville, 13 girls received pins in recognition of having completed the work preliminary to becoming Tenderfoot Girl Scouts. The pins were presented by Mrs. Raymond M. Hale, a member of the Scout committee.

The program included a flag ceremony; address of welcome to the girls and their parents by Mrs. Donald Bosserman, also a member of the Scout committee, who concluded her talk with an outline of Scouting work; two Scout songs; investiture service conducted by Mrs. Hale; reciting in unison of the 10 Scout laws, and group singing of "The Hymn of Scouting."

Miss Myrna Sheely served as a Scout leader during the summer months. Miss Carolyn Lowe, of the Arendtsville high school faculty, will serve as leader during the winter assisted by Mrs. Fred Lease, formerly Miss Miriam Rice. Mrs. John Frederick is the third member of the committee.

Girls receiving pins Wednesday included Patsy Bolen, Jane Flickinger, Betty Freed, Ann Frederick, Dolores Gochnaur, Dorothy Hartzell, Joyce Heckenluber, Elise Hykes, Betty Hykes, June Hykes, Dorothy Longanecker, Jane Longanecker and Ann Luckenbaugh.

A number of girls attended the service who have not yet completed work for Tenderfoot Scout rating. The troop, sponsored by the Upper County Lions club, meets every Wednesday evening at Trinity Lutheran church.

36-YEAR-OLD LIBRARY ROOM ENDS SERVICE

This evening the little library room on the second floor of the Fire Engine House at Biglerville is dark—a room which has been the gathering place for the young readers of Biglerville on Thursday evenings over a long period of years.

In 1910 the streets of the town were unpaved, transportation difficult and there was no high school, the young people had little source of reading material. Books in the homes were read and reread, some new ones were purchased but that was about the extent of the supply.

It was then that the Biglerville Free Library was founded. Its beginning was modest and though it grew through the years, it remained much the same until finally its doors were closed last week.

The reading room was on the second floor of what is now the Thomas brothers store.

For thirty-six years many young people of the Biglerville district made their way to the library every Thursday night. They returned books and borrowed from one to three to read during the week. That the library has been an integral part of Biglerville, is evident from a glance at the records and at the book shelves.

Considerable Interest
The ledgers show there were always regular customers, mostly children and a few adults. After the high school was founded and a library instituted there, the turn-over in the Free Library during the winter months was somewhat less. With the arrival of summer and the closing of the schools, more free time was on hand and the town's youth turned out in large numbers on library nights.

When it became necessary to vacate the room in which the library was started, through the courtesy

Security Council To Hear Greek Reply To Red Charges

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH
Lake Success, N. Y., Sept. 5 (AP)—The United Nations security council announced Greek Ambassador Vassili Dendramis an opportunity today to answer Ukrainian charges that his British-backed government is preparing "a serious threat to the peace of the Balkans."

The indictment was delivered yesterday by Ukrainian Foreign Minister Dmitri Manuilsky, who accused the Greeks of fomenting "sinister" border incidents and declared that British authorities were setting up "monarchist bands" in Macedonia.

Manuilsky's assertions brought from the British delegate, Sir Alexander Cadogan, a protest that "my government has been indicted almost as much as Greece." He requested an opportunity to reply and was granted the privilege of speaking after Dendramis.

Both morning and afternoon sessions were scheduled by the council in an effort to speed hearing of the Ukraine's charges so that it can turn next week to consideration of its report to the general assembly.

Secretary General Trygve Lie announced last night the assembly would convene in New York September 23 as scheduled, despite Soviet Russia's action in proposing to the Big Four Foreign Ministers' council in Paris yesterday that the session be postponed to November and be shifted to Paris or Geneva.

R. C. Directors To Meet Tuesday

A meeting of the board of directors of the Adams county Red Cross will be held next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Red Cross office, 141 Baltimore street, it was announced today.

Plans for the year's work, reports from committees, action on various resolutions sent out from the national convention and a report by delegates to the national convention are scheduled for the session.

LITTLESTOWN FIREMEN TO RAISE FUNDS

The Alpha Fire company of Littlestown at its monthly meeting Tuesday evening, voted to canvass the borough and surrounding areas for cash donations. The town will be solicited during the week beginning September 16, and the country the following week. Wayne Arnold and Henry Storm will serve as co-chairmen of the canvassing committee, and E. J. Alloff will be financial chairman. The solicitors appointed are as follows: Frederick street, James U. Bowers, Wayne C. Arnold, and J. Donald Basehoar; Frederick street extended, Edgar DeGroot; Hanover street, Bernard Selby, George Hornberger, Richard Knipple, and Robert Eckenrode; Park avenue and Crouse park, Edward G. Loeffel; Maple, Prince, Myrtle, and Patrick streets, Robert Koontz and Monroe Morelock; Gettysburg street, Harold Sparver, Kenneth Sparver, W. E. Stiles, and John Pickinger; Newark street and Prince street extended, Charles W. Snyder; Baltimore street, Robert Leaward and Harry W. Badders; Lombard and Walnut streets, Henry Storm and Raymond Spangler; Charles, M. Cemetery, and Boyer streets, Edgar Pfeffer and Richard Long; business places and manufacturing plants, Bernard Dillman, J. Arthur Boyd, and Kehneth Sentz. George Halter will be chairman of the canvass in the rural areas.

To Reorganize Uniform Rank
Plans were made to revive the uniform rank of the Alpha Fire company, and President Wayne Arnold appointed a committee of three, composed of George Hornberger, Edward Loeffel, and Monroe Morelock, to make arrangements for the reorganization of the group. Those interested in joining the parade group during the next season will meet Tuesday, September 24, at 7:30 o'clock, to discuss plans, including the possibility of buying new uniforms.

The second reading of the proposed new by-laws was held. One change would raise the membership from 200 to 300. Another amendment would raise the fine for absenteeism for all meetings missed during the year over six, from 10 cents to 25 cents, and the annual dues from 50 cents to one dollar. This would make the payment for a member who does not attend any meetings at all during the year $2.50 instead of the present $1.10. The extra money thus raised would be put in a fund out of which death benefits would be paid the beneficiary of a member who dies, according to proposals submitted at the meeting. The third and final reading of the proposed new by-laws will take place at the October meeting.

Henry Waltman was appointed general chairman of the Carnival committee for 1947. Littlestown will be host to the Adams County Firemen's convention next Labor Day. (Please Turn to Page 2)

EMMITSBURG'S SCHOOL OPENS; 16 TEACHERS

Emmitsburg's public school opened Wednesday with more students than in recent years. All the teachers have returned and two additional instructors bring the roster to 16 in the elementary grades and the junior and senior high school.

Principal A. L. Leary reported "everything moved more smoothly than in years" during the first day of school. After a half hour session in which the day's program was outlined classes began immediately and continued for the remainder of the day.

New teachers are Robert Sprague, physical education, who also has a class in mathematics and one in science and Miss Helen Frailey, a graduate of St. Joseph's college, who is teaching home economics and librarian who is listed as a substitute teacher.

A total of 222 elementary grade youngsters reported for the first day of school and according to the records of those planning to attend 17 more will start within the next few days.

Combined Choir
The junior-senior high school has approximately 130 students with about 20 more due to report within the next few days. Last year there were 206 in the elementary grades with the high school enrollment about the same as this year.

This year marks the first year that a complete junior high school set-up has been in existence with 7, 8 and 9th grades all operating, Leary said. The junior high school was started several years ago and the present ninth graders are the first to start under the junior high organization.

One change in the school program scheduled for this year is the dropping of the junior high choir. Principal Leary said. Last year a junior high choir was formed because it was felt the voices might be different from the senior choir. When that was found not to be the case it was decided to combine the two units in order to have a larger choir.

WILL EXPLAIN BORER CONTROL

Peach tree borer control measures will be discussed and demonstrated by J. O. Pepper, extension entomologist at two field meetings to be held September 10, M. T. Hartman, Adams county farm agent, announced today.

The sessions will be held at 10 o'clock in the morning at the farm of Fred Griest, Florida Dale, and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the farm of Charles Kuhn, Cashtown.

Observation of the county shows that much severe damage has been caused by the borer. Mr. Hartman said and measures should be taken to eradicate the pest as far as possible. Since the borers deposit eggs about the base of the peach trees the greater part of September treatment should not be applied before September 16 in order to kill the late developing borers, he added.

In addition to sending out a letter to all peach growers announcing the meeting the county agent's office also sent two sheets of instructions governing peach tree borer control suggestions. One recommends parathion-benzene crystals. The other recommends the use of a ethylene dichloride granulated superphosphate mixture as a trial about a few trees in order to test the borer control possibilities of the mixture which is said to have given a satisfactory kill of peach tree borers in small tests.

RED CROSS ASKS HELP IN MAKING CLOTHING FOR NEEDY ABROAD

With millions of displaced persons in war torn countries facing the worst winter since the war, the Adams county Red Cross today urged countians to aid in an emergency production campaign designed to help supply warm clothing for the millions, most of them children, who otherwise will have to face the coming winter without warm clothing, little food and little or no shelter.

Mrs. Leroy H. Winebrenner, chairman of the county Red Cross issued the plea for workers to sew and knit garments following receipt of a telegram from Ramone S. Eaton, national Red Cross production head stating that: "Emergency exists foreign relief. Urge chapter plan immediately complete and ship material at hand. Cooperation your chapter imperative. Essential garments reach Europe by January."

First step in the chapter's co-operation with the need was completion of plans to ship 130 boys' flannel overalls for youngsters between the ages of eight and 12 years. Second step was to speed up production on boys' shorts of which the chapter expects to ship 100 in the very near future.

Materials Arriving
Mrs. Clyde B. Stover, in charge of production at the Red Cross production room on East High street, announced that a button-hole machine has been added to the equipment at the production room and that of the over 1,000 buttonholes that will be needed for the overalls and shorts, 500 have already been made.

The county chapter also received today yards of cotton material to be made into 85 girls' blouses for youngsters between two and ten years of age. Mrs. Stover, who is arranging for the cutting of the cloth said it would be ready in the very near future for those who wish to sew the garments.

Persons who wish to help in sewing or knitting can come to the production room on East High street, or can pick up the materials and sew or knit them at home, or they can contact Mrs. P. J. McGlynn at Biglerville; Mrs. R. C. Livingston at New Oxford or Mrs. J. R. Riden at Littlestown to obtain material.

Displaced persons in Europe will suffer tremendously during the coming winter if they cannot obtain warm clothing, the Red Cross pointed out. With thousands of homes destroyed by the war many are living in mere shelters, tiny huts of waste material put together by those living in them. With homes, work and nearly everything else gone, the displaced persons for the most part are unable to obtain clothing or anything else other than the small amount of food available at free kitchens established to aid them.

Also Aid Veterans

In addition to the production needed for the war sufferers in Europe, the county chapter has also accepted a quota to produce 85 cardigan sweaters for disabled war veterans in hospitals. The maroon yarn for the sweaters to be made at the request of the Veterans Administration is now available at the Red Cross for those who wish to knit the garments.

If the present quotas are quickly filled, the county chapter will secure additional quotas, the county office said today, stating that "it is up to the volunteer women of the county who wish to help in the production work. We can obtain as much material to be made into garments as can be knitted or sewed here."

PLAY CENTER OPENS FRIDAY

Six elders of Emmitsburg, men between 80 and 89, Burgess Joseph Hoke, and the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts will "christen" Emmitsburg's new recreation center, Charles A. Harner, owner of the establishment announced today.

The center will open Friday afternoon with six of the oldest men in town rolling three balls each in the first games to be played on the six bowling alleys in the establishment. The list of the men was not complete today. After that the alleys will be turned over to the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of Emmitsburg for the remainder of the afternoon.

The evening session will begin at 7 p. m. with Mayor Hoke rolling the first ball. The recreation center is located to the rear of the confectionery store operated by William T. Rosensteel.

TALENTS ALSO BEING JUDGED

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 5 (AP)—Girls representing New York city, Atlanta and the state of Louisiana had a slight edge over 45 other competitors today as the 1946 Miss America pageant moved into its second day.

Twenty-one-year-old Eileen Henry of Brooklyn, entered as "Miss New York City," and Jane Miller, 18-year-old dark blonde "Miss Atlanta" tied for top honors last night in the bathing suit division of the pageant's first preliminary contest.

Marguerite McClelland, 23, a blonde from Memphis, Tenn., entered as "Miss Louisiana," was judged best of 16 contestants in the talent division. She sang "Voice of Spring," a light opera selection. Miss McClelland, a Louisiana State university graduate, sang despite a severe cold. Pageant officials said she had been ill for two days.

The contest, held in huge Convention hall on the boardwalk, was watched by an estimated 10,000 persons. Preliminaries continue tonight and tomorrow night with the finals scheduled for Saturday night, when pageant officials expect a crowd of 25,000 persons.

In keeping with the pageant theme last night, the contestants appeared first dressed in evening gowns while 50 local girls in United Nations costumes and carrying national flowers formed a background.

of the Biglerville Fire company, a room in the fire house was obtained, rent free, and it is from this room that most of the town residents will recall getting their books.

The library has been closed mainly because the school has built its library to such size that the need for the town library has been lessened.

Give Play For Funds

In 1910 a group of young women of Biglerville decided to provide more recreation for the young people of the town and staged a home talent play in the school house. This involved replacing the school desks with benches since at that time no hall was available.

The proceeds from this play were sufficient to buy a few books for a library. Interest in the venture was aroused and a number of books were donated. With this nucleus of a library on hand, a room was obtained and shelves built.

One of the young women volunteered her services as librarian and the Biglerville Free Library was launched. Later, the extension division of the Pennsylvania State Library agreed to loan 50 books every six months so long as the library remained exclusively free to borrowers.

First librarian was Miss Alice Longsdorf, now Mrs. H. S. Raffensperger, of Arendtsville, and she carried on until 1931 when Mrs. G. W. Koser, who had been assisting, took charge and carried on until the library was closed.

Some Contributions

No funds have ever been solicited, nor received from any government unit. Friends have occasionally given small sums of money, books and magazine subscriptions. It has always been the policy to loan books to any Adams county rural school where the teacher made the selection. At least eight of these schools have taken advantage of the privilege.

Indicative of the interest of young people in the library was the comment made by a high school junior to Mrs. Koser several weeks before the closing.

"I'd give anything if I could carry on this work for you for another year. It's wonderful, but I just can't do it while going to school."

This girl lives several miles from Biglerville and bicycled to and from the library every Thursday.

and the carnival will be held August 28, 29, and 30, and on Labor Day, Sept. 1. Littlestown was not regularly scheduled to have the annual county firemen's convention until 1953, but put in a bid for it when Fairfield turned down the convention. The firemen voted to give the convention to Littlestown at the annual county meeting Monday at East Berlin.

he was flown to the Philippines, where he joined a gunboat, the PGM-2, until it was decommissioned. Then he was assigned to the ARD (Advanced Repair Drydock) -20 at Guian Samar.

The 500-foot long and 82-foot wide drydock could fill its tanks and sink 24 feet into the water, permitting destroyers and landing craft to sail into the basin of the ship. Then the tanks would be emptied and as the craft rose the water poured out of the basin and the destroyer or other craft would be high and dry in the center of the ARD.

A Complete Unit

A complete unit in itself, the ARD could handle with its work shops, cranes and other equipment all minor repairs to the ships. And if parts were brought to it it could handle major repairs.

"There was another advantage to the tanks of the ARD," Boehner points out, "you could be as high above the water as you wished. We sailed through a typhoon and a hurricane and in heavy weather simply filled the tanks and sank down until we were nearly at water level and thus had a much smoother ride."

The ship was built with a bow and a 128-foot section much like other ships. From the end of that section, where the shops were located, two wings extended back 392 feet to the end of the dry dock. A gate at the rear raised or lowered to permit entrance of ships after the bottom of the dry dock had been lowered to the proper depth.

Handled 200 Ships

The drydock handled 200 ships over a two-year period, while the average number handled by that type of drydock during the same period was 144. Sometimes, during invasions, two or three ships were handled in the course of one day.

The drydock itself was placed in a floating drydock, one big enough to handle cruisers, when it needed repairs. As Boehner explains, the ARD-20 was towed by a tug into the larger floating drydock, which was open at each end. The tug sailed out the other end and then the sailors, just to see if a dry dock could be placed inside a dry dock in a drydock attempted to get a smaller floating drydock inside the ARD-20. The attempt failed when the smaller vessel proved too large for the ARD-20's capacity.

HEIRENS FAILS IN SUICIDE TRY

Chicago, Sept. 5 (AP)—William Heirens, triple murderer awaiting court determination of his punishment, tried unsuccessfully to hang himself in the Cook county (Chicago) jail early today, his guard reported.

The guard informed Warden Frank Sain that when he came on duty at 1 a. m. Heirens was hanging in a noose fashioned crudely with a bedsheet. The guard cut him down before the youth lost consciousness.

Heirens' attempt to kill himself was his third since his capture and confession of three killing and more than a score of burglaries and assaults. Previously he had tried to break open head wounds in the hope that he might bleed to death. He also had collected a store of aspirin tablets in the belief that a large overdose might kill him.

The 17-year-old student's newest attempt on his life came as the state prepared to close its presentation of evidence upon which Chief Justice Harold G. Ward of the criminal court will determine the penalty to be levied against him.

The state reportedly is not going to ask for the death penalty but will recommend that the University of Chicago sophomore be given a series of sentences which will insure his imprisonment for the rest of his life.

Rescue 23 From Liberty Ship Crew

Bordeaux, France, Sept. 5 (AP)—All 23 sailors clinging to one of the broken sections of the grounded 7,176-ton American Liberty ship David Caldwell were rescued today, naval authorities at Rochefort announced.

Eight men of the original crew of 40 were missing and two were known to be dead. Seven others previously had reached shore from the shipwreck in the Gironde estuary and were rushed to hospitals in Royan and Rochefort. The 23 rescued seamen were hauled in a breeches-buoy to a French dredger which got a line aboard. They were to be brought to Bordeaux.

The storm, which wrecked the vessel was abating, however, and hope was growing that rescue boats could reach the shattered vessel during the day. French Coast Guard boats which went to the aid of the stricken ship yesterday were forced to turn back as the storm gained in violence.

Mondorff To Coach At Upper Marlboro

Pershing Mondorff, one of the foremost athletes produced by Emmitsburg, plans to coach and teach physical education this winter at the Upper Marlboro, Md., high school, it was learned today.

Mondorff spent the past season with the Newport News baseball team, a farm for the Brooklyn Dodgers, who signed him to a contract to pitch after he completed 52 months service with the army. During his army career the Emmitsburg man, who while playing football for the University of Maryland got All-American mention, was physical education instructor at the U. S. Air Forces' Keeler Field at Biloxi, Miss.

During college, and in the army, he excelled in football, baseball, and basketball. The 220-pound pitcher first played for Montreal after being signed by the Dodgers and then was transferred to Newport News.

Seek Identity Of 'Mail Baby' Boy

Philadelphia, Sept. 5 (AP)—Police were checking three return addresses today in hopes of uncovering a clue to the identity of a new-born baby boy after the infant's body, wrapped in a woman's slip was found in a parcel post package mailed to a non-existent address here.

Postal employees who discovered the body yesterday during a routine package inspection said the parcel bore a four-day-old Dallas, Tex., postmark and three different return addresses. Coroner's physician, Charles Swalm, however, said the infant had been dead about 10 days.

Seek Traffic Light For Center Square

In an effort to obtain a "stop and go" light on the square, a traffic count was taken on Labor Day by the mayor of the town. The total number of cars passing through the square from all directions between 11:30 to 8 p. m. was 5,116. This figure has been sent to the state of Maryland for consideration. Within a few weeks a state representative will meet with the mayor, commissioners and business men of the town to talk the matter over.

ELKS RALLY TO TRIM BARBERS BY 4-3 MARGIN

"Hen" Herring's single which scored a pair of runners featured a three-run last inning rally by the Elks who upset the Varsity Barbers 4-3 to take the opening game of the three-game series for the championship of the Community Softball league Wednesday evening before a big crowd on the college field.

The Barbers apparently had the contest sewed up at 3-1 when the lodgemen suddenly broke loose with a strong hitting rally to snatch the game from the fire.

"Bill" Kuhn opened the last half of the seventh with a single and "Yockie" Bream, who replaced "Ken" Knox in left field, followed with another single. "Artie" Phiel got a two-base on a poorly played fly to left field, Kuhn scoring. Herring then banged out his game-winning single.

The Elks tabbed a run in the first inning. "Hen" Bream led off with a walk and scored after two were out when Ivan Kitzmiller singled to right.

A pair of runs in the first of the fourth put the Barbers out in front. Joe Hess started the inning by getting a scratch hit on a loosely played fly to center-field. "Bobby" Knox singled him home and Timbers followed with another single to score Knox.

The Barbers added another run in the fifth on singles by "Dick" Fidler and "Dick" Heintzelman, two fielders' choices, and another one-base blow by Gorman.

Tonight the teams will clash again. If a third game is required it will be played Friday evening.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 5 (AP)—If you're looking for a "dark horse" in the National Amateur Golf championship next week, how about Fred Kammer of Detroit? . . . Fred virtually grew up on the Baltusrol course, where his dad, Augie, still can shoot a good game. . . . Then there are Don Schumacher, Jimmy McHale, and John Dawson, all recently reinstated as amateurs; Otto Greiner, a former navy bomber pilot who is one of the few golfers ever to qualify for both the open and amateur championships the same year, and Intercollegiate Champion George Hamer. . . . Four college champs have won the amateur in previous years, but not in the same season.

NO OVERTIME PAY

Another amateur title contender is Maurice McCarthy, who set an endurance record of some sort in 1930 at Merion, Pa. . . . In the qualifying round, McCarthy had to make a hole-in-one on the 35th to tie for the last spot in match play and he did it. The next morning he waded through a playoff with the other guys who had tied and then went 19 holes to eliminate Watts Gunn. . . . In the afternoon Maurice tangled with George Von Elm in another overtime match, winning a birdie three on the 28th. . . . That was enough; Jess Sweetser knocked him out in the third round.

ONE MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

The "struggling" All America Football conference clubs have played to 129,000 fans in six pre-season exhibition games, which looks pretty good for the regular season opening Friday. . . . And maybe it isn't just a coincidence that the Giants-Lions (National league) exhibition was scheduled for Friday in Buffalo, where the Bisons (A.A.C.) open their regular season against Brooklyn Sunday. . . . As Bandleader Kay Kyser, part owner of the Rocky Mount, N. C. club said when Pitcher Bill Kennedy broke the record with his 429th strikeout: "Just let Bob Hope say something about Bob Feller." Cleveland Bob never did anything to match Tony Napoles, 21-year-old Cuban, who won 20 games and lost none for Prekskill, N. Y., in the North Atlantic league this season. Tony racked up his 19th and 20th victories by pitching a double header on Labor Day.

Ex-Champ Released From Jail In Germany

Hamburg, Germany, Sept. 5 (AP)—Max Schmeling, the former world heavyweight champion, is out of jail after serving three months on a charge he continued building a new home after an order halting all such construction. He was also fined 10,000 marks, and his partially built house was confiscated by British authorities. A correspondent found Max working beside his wife, petite, blonde film star Anny Ondra, in the vegetable garden near their intended home.

Asked whether he would fight again, Schmeling, now slightly gray at the temples, said he didn't know. As a German, he is unable to go to the United States. He is prohibited from boxing here although he has been given a clean bill by the de-Nazification board.

CARDS, BROOKS, WIN AS BOSOX NEAR PENNANT

By JOE REICHLER

(AP Sports Writer)

George (Red) Munger, who only six weeks ago, was wondering whether he would leave Germany in time to join the St. Louis Cardinals this season, may prove the deciding factor in the Redbirds' battle with the Brooklyn Dodgers for the National league pennant.

Munger last night celebrated his second week with the Cards since his discharge from the army by pitching the Redbirds to an 8-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs for his first triumph of the year.

The victory enabled the Cards to preserve their two-game lead over the second-place Dodgers who defeated the Braves in Boston 3-1.

Munger's six-hit performance comes as a surprise to most observers since he failed to retire a man in a relief role against the Dodgers August 25, and had to be removed after tiring badly in his initial starting assignment last Sunday.

In a battle between lefthanders, Brooklyn's Joe Hatten had the better of Boston's Warren Spahn although the Braves out-hit the Dodgers eight to six. Three bases on balls proved Spahn's undoing as all figured in Brooklyn's scoring.

A's Halt Yanks

The Boston Red Sox moved to within five games of clinching the American league pennant, defeating the Washington Senators 4-2 in the Capitol City while the Athletics were shading the New York Yankees 4-3 in Philadelphia. The Sox now lead the runner-up Yankees by 16½ games, the biggest margin they have enjoyed this season.

Phil Marchildon gained his 12th victory for the A's as Pete Suder drove in the tie-breaking run in the seventh with a single. Joe DiMaggio's 23rd home run went to waste for the Yankees.

Chet Laabs drove in all St. Louis' runs with two home runs and a single as the Browns took the measure of the White Sox in Chicago 5-1.

Bucky Walters and Joe Beggs cooperated to pitch the Cincinnati Reds to a 6-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates in Cincinnati.

Although they collected only six hits, the Philadelphia Phils made five count for extra bases, including two home runs by Andy Seminick and one by Del Ennis, to down the New York Giants 6-5 at the Polo Grounds.

In the day's only daylight game, Hal Newhouse hung up his 24th pitching win as the Detroit Tigers whipped the Cleveland Indians 4-1.

MOUNTAINEERS LIST FIVE GAMES

Five games have been listed for the 1946 football squad at Mt. St. Mary's college Coach Walter Opekon announced today.

Since practice does not start until the opening of school, September 17, the coach said today he had no idea of what he might have in the way of a football team. But with 600 students scheduled to report for studies, the largest number in the history of the school, he felt pretty sure of being able to put a "pretty good" squad on the field.

The schedule will start off October 19 when the Mountmen play host to the Bainbridge, Md., Naval center. The following week, October 26, the Mountaineers will travel to Chestertown, Md., to play Washington college. On November 2, Lebanon Valley will play at Mt. St. Mary's. November 9 is open and on November 16 the Mount will travel to Bainbridge for their second game with the Navy-men. The season will close November 29 with Western Maryland at Westminster.

QUARTER FINALS AT FOREST HILLS

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 5 (AP)—This is the day in the national tennis championships when the hot spots have to hitch up their shorts and get down to serious business if they expect to continue traveling first class and eating at the first table.

Up to this point, the top drawer players have had to do little more than toss their rackets on the court once a day and watch their opponents swoon. But with the coming of the quarter-finals they begin encountering hungry young hopefuls who are not easily impressed, and who would like to be on the Davis cup team, themselves.

Take Billy Talbert, who has been runner-up for the title the past two years and appears certain to take a nice trip to Australia this winter if nothing happens to him that the Davis cup committee does not like. His opponent today will be Bob Falkenburg, a skinny lad from Southern California who hits, with remarkably little effort, a service that is difficult to see, much less return.

In the other quarter-final second seeded Jack Kramer, who has swept through three matches without coming anywhere near dropping a set, meets a classy campaigner in Don McNeill, who won the national championship back in 1940 and still can play a lot of tennis.

Penn-Maryland Loop Meeting On Tuesday

The Penn-Maryland baseball league is scheduled to meet at Middleburg next Tuesday to arrange plans for the championship play-off following the final regular season games Sunday.

At the present time McSherrystown is in the lead with Hanover and Emmitsburg tied for second and Thurmont in fourth place.

MANY HS GRID TEAMS TO OPEN SEASON FRIDAY

By TOM SHRIVER

Harrisburg, Sept. 5 (AP)—Off to a belated start, Pennsylvania's scholastic football season finds more teams in action on opening day than at any time in the history of the sport.

Kept idle over the Labor Day holidays by official edict of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association rule that no games could be played until the third Friday of the training season, most of the teams scheduled games for tomorrow or Saturday.

Eric academy, which has always opened earlier, takes on a sturdy foe for opening day then the Lions play host to Mt. Carmel, from the heart of the anthracite belt.

Eric East is at New Castle; Erie Tech at Grove City; Dubois goes to Alliquippa; Franklin plays at Girard; Meadville entertains Greenville; and Oil City and Titusville meet on the former's field in other Friday games.

Bradford journeys to Erie strong Vincent and Warren resumes an old rivalry at Kane in two of the feature games Saturday to round out the program in the northwestern sector.

Standout Hits

Standout games in the central part of the state find unbeaten Huntingdon opening with Claysburg; Bigler township at State College; Osceola Mills at Clearfield; Curwensville at Emporium; Cooper township at Phillipsburg; Bellwood-Antis at Tyrone; and on Saturday Punxsutawney goes to Ridgway.

Johnstown picks a tough opening-day foe in Conemaugh township at Point Stadium; with Southmont at Bedford; Hastings at Lilly; Nanty Glo at Cresson; Richland township at Ferndale; and Portage at Altoona Catholic in other games in that sector.

In the coal regions the big game finds Booby Nork's West Mahonoy township playing a non-conference fray at Shenandoah where Nork gained his initial fame as a football

Conference Rules Yovicsin Ineligible

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 5 (AP)—The Southern Conference executive committee Wednesday ruled A. J. (Tony) Yovicsin, former end on the Bainbridge Naval football team, ineligible for varsity athletics at the University of North Carolina.

The ruling was announced by Dr. H. A. Fisher, president of the conference.

Yovicsin entered North Carolina in June. The committee statement said he had registered at Duke university last March while still in the navy and had worked out with the Duke football squad.

Yovicsin was a star football and basketball player at Gettysburg college prior to entering the navy.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press) The Albany Senators have about clinched a place in the Eastern league playoffs. The third place Senators now hold a four and a half game lead over the fourth place Hartford Chiefs and a six-game margin over the pioneers with seven games to play.

The Pioneers remained solidly in the running for fourth place despite last night's 9-2 and 5-2 losses to the Senators, since Hartford dropped a double bill to the Williamsport Grays, 2-0 and 6-3.

The pennant-winning Scranton Miners split their double header with the Utica Blue Sox, winning 3-1 and then bowing, 6-3. The Wilkes-Barre Barons retained second place by edging the Binghamton Triplets, 4-3.

Five Utica players were recalled by the Philadelphia National league club. They are Pitchers Don Grate, Al Hodkey and John Clements, Infield Don Hassameyer and Outfielder Nick Picciuto.

STORK WINS

Erie, Pa., Sept. 5 (AP)—A baby daughter was born yesterday in the automobile of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wolf, of Erie, as the couple raced toward Mamot hospital. The birth occurred just outside the hospital doors and a student nurse, Emma Jane Irons of Smethport, assisted Mrs. Wolf. Mother and daughter were reported "doing fine."

In other games Kulpmont attempts to extend its 22 consecutive game win streak by entertaining Mt. Carmel township; Tamaqua plays at Frackville; Gilberton at Mahanoy City and in the Hazleton area the big game is Hazle township at Hazleton high.

The newly organized conference of the Roses opens with West York at Elizabethtown, and Ephrata at Columbia, while the other conference teams await next week's schedule before swinging into action.

FANS PICK LOPEZ
Pittsburgh, Sept. 5 (AP)—Veteran Pirate Catcher Al Lopez is the choice of fans who in a straw election indicated their choice for manager of the Pirates. Present Manager Frankie Frisch placed fourth.

Inter State League

(By The Associated Press) Seventh-place Trenton joined Harrisburg's chances of gaining second place in the Interstate league last night as the Giants walloped the third-place Senators 4 to 1 and 7 to 4 in a major upset.

Wilmington, newly crowned league champion, also suffered an upset as fifth-place Allentown won a double-header 14 to 10 and 7 to 3 over the league leaders, who have failed to win a game over Allentown this season.

In other games, York kept in the running for a fourth place berth in the playoffs by defeating Lancaster 10 to 3 and Sunbury triumphed over second-place Hagerstown 5 to 3.

Today's schedule: Lancaster at York, Trenton at Harrisburg, Hagerstown at Sunbury and Wilmington at Allentown.

KILLED BY ENGINE

Titusville, Pa., Sept. 5 (AP)—A Pennsylvania railroad switch engine struck and killed William Kelly, 62, of Titusville, as he was walking along the tracks late yesterday. Two sisters survive.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY YEARS AGO
Dr. E. S. Breidenbaugh Dies at His Home: Dr. Edward Swoyer Breidenbaugh, 77, professor emeritus in chemistry at Gettysburg college, passed away in his home on Carlisle street, Sunday morning. The venerable teacher, who in 1924 rounded out fifty years as an instructor in chemistry at the college, died following a brief illness.

Physicians, surgeons and chemists, scattered from one end of the country to another, look back to the teachings of Doctor Breidenbaugh as the ground work for their present successes.

Y. W. Secretary To Arrive on Tuesday: Miss Metta Mitchell, first secretary for Gettysburg's and Adams county's new Young Women's Christian association, will arrive in Gettysburg from Baltimore next Tuesday. Miss Mitchell has been stationed at St. Petersburg, Florida.

Lions Are Hosts to 1,000 Kiddies at Annual Picnic: The "rounders" song, "Show Me The Way To Go Home," was slightly changed by the 1,000 kiddies who attended the picnic held by the Lions club at Marsh Creek Heights Tuesday to "I Don't Want To Go Home," at least when the time had arrived for the departure of the little guests.

Every one of the seventy children of the Hoffman Orphanage, with their teachers, were guests of the local club and 119 children from the Paradise Rectory, their band and the Sisters of Charity were also present.

Huge quantities of ice cream, pop and pretzels were consumed. Swimming and games were enjoyed throughout the afternoon.

Short Sessions Mark Opening of Borough Schools: School bells of Gettysburg on Wednesday recalled boys and girls from vacation pursuits to the more serious business of "readin', 'ritin' and 'rithmetic."
At the new $100,000 high school building, special opening exercises were held, with Lloyd C. Keefe, au-supervising principal of Gettysburg's public school, in charge.

Birth Announcement: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Anzenberger, Railroad street, announce the birth of a daughter on Sunday night.

(Ad.) On and after September 1, 1946, The Gettysburg Water Company will be located in a permanent office at 139 Baltimore street, with Mr. Clifford C. Bream in charge, where bills can be paid and service arranged for. Gettysburg Water Company.

Rotarians Hold Annual Picnic: A baseball game featured the annual picnic of Gettysburg Rotarians and their ladies at Arendtsville Union Park Monday afternoon. The game was won by a team captained by Edmund W. Thomas, defeating a team led by William C. Tyson. Postmaster Robert C. Miller umpired.

Basket luncheons were served.
Motion pictures were taken by John D. Keith, president of the club.

Doug, Mary and Gloria Stop Here:
A trio of famous movie personages and the titled husband of one of them spent an hour in Gettysburg Tuesday evening, while they ate dinner at the Blue Parrot tea room, Chambersburg street.

They were Douglas Fairbanks, his equally famous wife, Mary Pickford, Gloria Swanson and her husband, the Marquis de la Palaise.
The quartet, traveling in a high powered automobile, driven by a colored chauffeur, left New York city after the funeral of Rudolph Valentino. The two couples left here—with Pittsburgh as their destination.

Today's Talk

DEALERS IN REAL VALUES
When Dr. Johnson used to invite those to his humble abode—just for "good talk," and even with Boswell forever at his heels, no one can think for a moment that he had any ulterior purpose in mind. He just wished, most of all, to hear talk about the real values of life.

When Montaigne retired to his "castle" where, in his library, he determined to write down his daily thoughts in the frankest manner, no one could then accuse him of wanting to make a "first seller" out of the story of his life, in the essays that he wrote. And that world-classic—the Meditations of Marcus Aurelius—even the "good Emperor" had no idea that it would ever be published—and it wasn't until a hundred years or so after his death.
What he wanted to do merely, for his own good, was to jot down thoughts which he considered comprised the real values of life.

The poets and philosophers of the world are always dealers in the real values that feed the soul. I have a friend, whom I greatly love and admire. I have spent many hours talking with him. Few men, whom I have ever contacted, have a greater knowledge of literature and human nature. He is Sir Joseph Chisholm, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia. Now well into his eighties, he told me a year or so ago, that he enjoyed more than ever the reading of poetry. I would say that that is one way to round out a useful life—being inspired by those who deal in the real values of life, here, and perhaps beyond!

Intrinsic values, in time, lose all their value. They are merely for temporary traders. Fundamental values alone live and hold at par-and more. For these are the values that create character, and make people beloved and remembered.

Henry D. Thoreau once sent a contribution of but five dollars to a library fund for Harvard University, that was solicited. But with it was a note that stated this was more than he had earned in three months of labor. This was generous giving—because its real value represented something that came from his heart.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "This Day—That's All!"

HERMIT LIFE
Wonder how a hermit cave like it in his lonely cave?
When the moon is on the lake,
How much pleasure can he take
From a splendor so serene, Having none to share the scene?
Half the joy of beauty lies Shining in another's eyes.

When a hermit sits to read,
Does he never feel the need
Of another in a chair
Who the joy of books would share?
Can the printed page suffice?
Does he never read it twice—
Once for self, there and then,
For another, read again?

What's the worth of all we own
If it's kept for self alone?
Pictures beautifully may be,
But if stored where none can see,
Though a fortune they have cost,
All the charm of them is lost.
Beauty, how do hermits bear it,
Having no one near to share it?

sented Reverend Robinson with a

Robinson with a substantial check.

DRASTIC DROP IN SUPPLIES OF LIVESTOCK

By WILLIAM FERRIS

Chicago, Sept. 5 (AP)—Some weird looking meat animals were stumbling into the stockyards today as arrivals at all livestock markets declined drastically in the first week of revived OPA ceilings on hog and cattle.

Most of the cattle received here for slaughter were dried up cows, offering a highly unappetizing type of meat for consumers. They were practically lost in the great union stockyards which last week were jammed with bawling steers. All former low volume Chicago records were broken yesterday when only 1,200 cattle, 700 hogs and 800 sheep and lambs arrived. Nearly all of the 8,000 pens were empty.

Had Been Predicted
An equally sorry lot of hogs was being unloaded. These consisted of emaciated sows, boars and inferior grades of pigs. Livestock observers said there was not one good pork chop in the bunch.

Similar unimpressive runs were reported at other marketing centers.
A few small concentration points in the mid-west did not receive any animals at all, traders stated. As the receipts dwindled, many packers began laying off workers.

Meat packers were not surprised at the dearth of offerings. They had predicted it.

Nearly everything which could be marketed, including some light

Expects Fayette County To Go GOP

Uniontown, Pa., Sept. 5 (AP)—Predicting Fayette county will switch its party allegiance from Democratic to Republican, GOP County Chairman Darrell W. Smiley today cited Republican gains in new voter registrations in many districts Democratic since 1932.

Smiley said "the fact that Republicans are topping Democrats in Democratic strongholds shows the trend is on in Fayette county for a change in politics."

He said the Republican gains were noted in a drive to register new voters in support of the candidacy of William J. Crow, seeking the congressional seat representing the Fayette-Hamerslet county district.

GETS ADVICE ON GIVING WEALTH

Pittsburgh, Sept. 5 (AP)—Charles A.
Locke, Pittsburgh attorney who gave away $300,000 because money did not bring contentment, has reaped an unexpected harvest of letters, telegrams and telephone calls informing him how he can get rid of the remaining one-fourth of his personal fortune.

When Locke, long an eligible bachelor, goes out to dinner now he sticks a fist full of his correspondence in his pocket and becomes the life of the party. He does not, however, cattle and hogs which should have been held back on farms, was unloaded in the period of price-free markets, observers explained.

AT CONVENTION IN DAVENPORT

The work of chiropractors was outlined during the last week of August at the annual conventions at Davenport, Iowa, and Toronto, Dr. L.
D. Beagle, Emmitsburg, reported upon his return from the two conventions early this week.

More than 5,000 attended the Davenport, Iowa gathering of the International Chiropractic Association, which revealed the identities of his correspondents in Australia, England, Peru, Puerto Rico and other distant points.

The messages inform him he can have a child named after him if he will forward $1,000, or so, to finance the baby's adoption. Others have offered to share their house with him if he will advance the down payment for a new home.
Many of his correspondents want to marry him.

But his favorite letter among the 1,500 received came from a man who said: "You are evidently a man who'd rather leave a million friends, who would follow you in genuine sorrow to your grave, than a million lousy bucks in the bank."

Locke, not an irreverent man, exclaimed: "By, God, he's right."

CAN'T BLOCK POISON FROM ATOMIC BOMB

Washington, Sept. 5 (AP)—The atom bomb's radium-like poison can penetrate a tightly closed ship and spread death throughout the interior.

This was disclosed today in an "Operation Crossroads" report dealing with the animals used in the Bikini tests.

Among other things, the report said that radiation sickness proved fatal to all of the 20 pigs stationed on four of the target ships used in the underwater bomb test.

The pigs had been placed in the medical quarters of the vessels, which were in "buttoned up" battle condition with hatches and ports closed. Six pigs were found dead within four days, the remainder died within two weeks.

Radioactive Mist Fatal

The atomic depthcharge, by creating a deadly radioactive mist and tossing tons of heavily contaminated water aboard the target ships, produced a far more poisonous effect than the first airburst bomb.

In that test, 3,030 rats, 176 goats and 146 pigs were used, stationed at points in 22 target vessels to simulate crewmen.

A preliminary survey indicates that about 10 per cent of the animals in the airburst test died from the blast of the bomb and that 10 per cent more fell victim to radiation sickness.

In the underwater explosion, 75 rats were killed initially by blast, radiation or other reasons, and 49 more died of radiation illness within a month.

For security reasons, the task force has declined to specify the exact number or positions of animals above and below decks on the target ships.

THE MATERNAL INSTINCT

Chapter 14

Lillie called Pud from the bar and when he came in, he stared at the child for a moment, and then raised his eyes to Lillie's. "Why, that's..."

Lillie shook her head. "This young man," she said quickly, "got in a little argument today and he got the worst of it because he didn't know what to do. So I said you would show him."

"Sure," Pud said, dropping down on one knee beside the small figure. He felt gently over his arms and shoulders and legs as August Bradford might have felt a horse he was thinking of buying.

"Nice," he said, standing up and nodding and frowning. "Now, look, sonny, you put up your hands like this, see?"

Lillie restrained a smile as the small figure squared off in exact duplication of the big one.

"Now, you put your feet this way," Rodney stared diligently at Pud's feet. "Not this way, nor this way," Pud shifted his feet rapidly. "But this way so you can brace yourself," Pud rocked back to show him. "This way you can cock your knees and get up on your toes, see, so you hop around. See?"

The lesson went on rapidly and at the end of it, Pud said, "Gosh, Lillie, he's a natural. Wish I could have him to train."

Rodney looked up at Lillie, "What's a natural?"

"Come on," Lillie said, "I'll tell you in the car."

When she let him out at the corner of the Bradford Street, she said, "I hope you won't be in trouble for being so late."

He wrinkled his nose in an impatient grin. "Nobody will miss me today. It's grandmother's bridge day and Miss Turner's day out and no one's home but cook."

Lillie bit her lip and thought of Violet and the next day she went to see August Bradford.

This time when Lillie gave her name, the office girl said "Oh, yes, Mrs. O'Dell," and tried not to stare. Inside August Bradford's office, Lillie came right to the point of what was on her mind.

"Yesterday," she said, "I met Rodney on the street, and I had no difficulty in getting him to go home with me. Now there's just this much about it Mr. Bradford. If he would walk off with me when I asked him to, he would probably go off with any one."

She saw the incredulous look in August Bradford's eyes and she rushed on before he would have a chance to interrupt her. "Now I have just this to say about it. Somebody, or maybe more than one somebody, in your household isn't giving that child the proper time and attention, and I just want you to know that if anything happens to him, I'll hold the whole Bradford family responsible. I want him raised the way my sister would have done it, and I want him trained right."

August Bradford answered quietly, "Thank you, Mrs. O'Dell. I shall do my best to see that your wishes are carried out."

Lillie said no more, but turned to leave the office. At the door August Bradford's voice stopped her, and she turned around. "I doubt, Mrs. O'Dell, if Rodney would have gone off with just any one, so don't worry about it." Lillie frowned, and he said hastily, "I don't mean that he will not be more carefully supervised—and mothered—at home. I mean that we all have certain innate feelings which assert themselves at odd moments. There was such a strong attachment between you and Rodney's mother that I think Rodney probably sensed the relationship between you and himself."

"See here," Lillie answered, "I have no intentions of Rodney's knowing us or anything about us. I'm perfectly satisfied that you people should have him and raise him, and my family won't interfere in any way, provided you people do a good job. If you don't..."

"I understand," Mr. Bradford interrupted, "and I appreciate your attitude." Lillie left the office swiftly, noting as she closed the door of August Bradford's office behind her that the girls working in the railroad-in enclosure stopped talking and began to peck frantically at their typewriters.

Two weeks after Lillie's visit, Lindbergh flew the Atlantic and Pud hung the "Lone Eagle's" picture over the bar where his father had hung that of Teddy Roosevelt. Two weeks after that Pud was dead.

He died quietly and as unobtrusively as he had lived. He woke one morning and awakened Lillie, asking for something for indigestion. Lillie got him baking soda and sat beside him, holding the glass while he drank it. He turned his head and said, "Thanks, hon," and slumped against her shoulder and died.

After the funeral, Sweet William asked her what she wanted to do. Lillie looked up at him with the perpetually dazed expression she had those days. "Do?" she asked. "What is there to do? Pud loved this place as he loved me. I'll just keep on with the Washington House for Pud. He would like that."

Bill rubbed his chin. "I don't know, Lillie. It's not exactly a business for a woman."

"No?" Lillie said. "Then I'll make it one."

But Lillie needed more than the easy management of the Washington House to keep her occupied. So she had added food, and then a man with an accordion to walk among the tables. The Washington House was growing, and on the first anniversary of Pud's death, Lillie, in a moment of sentimentality renamed it "Pud's Place."

Stock Drop Draws Comment In London

London, Sept. 5 (P)—Wall street's stock market drop and subsequent rally has caused considerable comment in London financial circles, but the general consensus is that the recession reflects what one commentator called the "mercenary American temperament" rather than a serious symptom of economic weakness.

Experts tended to dismiss the theory that the decline foreshadowed a rough financial period. There was a general agreement with the recently issued Bank of International Settlement report which said:

"There are good reasons for thinking that present day economics will be less exposed to business recession than those of 25 years ago."

Boy, 14, Will Be Tried For Murder

Waynesburg, Pa., Sept. 5 (P)—Donald G. Mullenau, 14-year-old Carmichaels farm hand and former court ward, will have to stand trial on a murder charge in the fatal stabbing of kindly Mrs. Kate Fletcher in the kitchen of her Richhill township home.

Donald was indicted yesterday by a Greene county grand jury on which the victim's husband, Frank, had been called to serve by a coincidence. He was excused by the court.

The Mullenau boy, who worked for the Fletchers on their farm, told State Policeman William Vath he killed the elderly woman with her carving knife as she was kneading bread because "I wanted a thrill."

RICE BIDS FOR INDEPENDENTS

Bradford, Pa., Sept. 5 (P)—Support of "independent and uncontrolled Republicans" in the coming fall elections is advocated by Col. John S. Rice, the Democratic candidate for governor.

In a campaign address here last night, Rice declared: "my fight is not against the many thousands of sincere Republicans in Pennsylvania. It is against the clique that has given their party into the hands of its exploiters."

The Democratic nominee declared the unsuccessful fight of former Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer for the Republican gubernatorial nomination "demonstrated one thing—the Republican leadership x x x can't be licked from within; it can be defeated only by defeat at the polls."

State Senator John H. Dent, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, declared: "the real issue is not whether or not the people repudiate the peacemakers—the United States must lead the world to peace or let the rest of the world lead the United States to war."

Al Schmid, blind ex-marine hero from Philadelphia and candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs, appealed to veterans to register before the September 14 deadline and criticized the Martin administration for what he called lack of foresight on housing and bonus problems.

YORK FAIR NEXT WEEK

The York Inter-State Fair, the outstanding Fair of the east, will be presented at York, Pa., next Tuesday, Sept. 10 to 14, day and night. This first York Fair, after the unsettled war years, offers the greatest of all programs in the 94 years of its history. To those who have attended many great York Fairs in the past that is enough said.

Already concession space is almost a sell-out. There will be more exhibits, better displayed, than ever before. The Main Building has been completely modernized and there are many other improvements in the vast one hundred twenty acre enclosure. Cattle, sheep, swine, rabbits, pigeons, poultry and the choicest fruits, vegetables, and grains will share an interest with the most attractive showing of products of domestic arts and needlecraft. Farm machinery will be back again in good supply, including many labor saving novelties.

GREAT ENTERTAINMENT

Frank Wirth's most brilliant Broadway Show will appear nightly on the enlarged stage before the Grandstand. There will be a return engagement of the immensely popular "Old Timers Quartet" with their barber shop harmonies. The list of daily specialties, day and night, feature such headliners as Dudley's Midgents, who come straight from a highly successful engagement in London; Gaultier's Bricklaying Dogs; and Willy West and McGinty, as well as other acts to be seen only at the greatest indoor and outdoor expositions.

Make note of these special dates: Wednesday night following established custom outstanding radio and screen program; Friday, Guy Lombardo's World Renowned Dance Band; Saturday, a nationally known daring automobile thrill show.

FUN UNRATED

As usual, York Fair will provide a four-day schedule of thrilling harness and running races for liberal purses on the finest half-mile track in the country. York Fair fans need not be reminded of ample parking space, the best all-weather roads, a choice of good, clean restaurants, sanitary toilets, and all of those comforts and conveniences so essential to holiday enjoyment.

There will certainly be no rationing of entertainment at the York Inter-State Fair this year. The Management's expenditure to bring patrons the best in attractions establishes a new high; yet there has not been one penny of advance in price of admission or Grandstand seats, in spite of the upward trend of costs generally. Don't miss this greatest of all York fairs. It comes only once a year. Reserve Grandstand seats early and avoid disappointment. —Adv.

Pupils Cheer 'No School' Decision

Norwalk, Conn., Sept. 5 (P)—Norwalk high school students cheered Wednesday as school Superintendent Philip Jakob, addressing them from the steps of the school building, told them to go home. The reason — "there are no teachers for the opening day of the fall term."

Although only nine of 236 teachers have signed contracts for the coming year and the Norwalk Teachers' association, involved in a pay dispute, had announced its members would not report for duty, about 800 of the high school's 1,000 pupils showed up. Many of them arrived well in advance of the opening hour.

The pupils cheered the "no school" announcement, but many expressed concern that a protracted dispute might force them to attend classes during winter vacations or next summer to make up for time lost now.

Jakob said radio announcements would be made each morning to inform them if classes could be started.

Congressman May Offers Today To Submit To Quizzing By Senate Probers

CONTINUES TO DENY PROFITS FROM COMBINE

By JOHN W. HENDERSON

Washington, Sept. 5 (AP)—Rep. Andrew J. May offered today to submit to Senate War Investigating committee questioning—either immediately at his Prestonsburg, Ky., home or later in Washington.

A subcommittee of the group which spent weeks earlier this summer delving into the wartime operations of the Garson munitions combine could meet with him in Kentucky, May wrote Chairman Mead (D-NY), or a formal session could be arranged here at a date "as determined by my physician."

Simultaneously, the chairman of the House Military committee made public a prepared statement which he said would have been read to the Senate committee on July 26 if illness had not prevented his appearance in response to a subpoena.

Expenses Not Yet Paid

In the statement, the Kentucky Democrat reiterated previous assertions that he did not profit in any way from his association with the combine, and specifically that he received no compensation for aiding in the operations of the Cumberland Lumber company, one of the Garson affiliates.

On the contrary, May declared, he still has coming at least $699.31 for out-of-pocket expense which he said he incurred in its behalf.

The letter and accompanying statement were made public by Daniel J. Andersen, one of May's Washington attorneys. A copy also was delivered to the Senate committee's office.

"At the present time," May wrote Mead, "I am able to be out of bed a short time in the morning and the afternoon. Should your committee desire to conduct further examination of me I would be very happy to meet with a subcommittee here in Prestonsburg now, per your desire as expressed in a recent news release, or at any later date as determined by my physician, in formal session in Washington."

The Kentuckian became ill on the eve of his previous scheduled appearance. His Washington physician said a chronic heart condition had become aggravated. He returned to Kentucky August 1.

STUDY REVEALS FEAR PRESENT AMONG FLYERS

By FRANK CAREY
(Associated Press Science Reporter)

Philadelphia, Sept. 5 (AP)—Fear gripped 99 per cent of our fliers at some time or other as they blasted out the victory path, an army air forces study reveals—and for most men fear increased rather than abated with the number of missions.

This was reported today to the American Psychological association by a wartime air forces psychologist who said the study represented the most comprehensive survey of fear reaction ever made among normal persons.

Dr. Laurence Shaffer, of Columbia university, chief of the air surgeon's psychological division during the war, told the association's 54th meeting in a prepared report that research on the problems of fear was made interrogating 4,504 fliers on their return to the United States from combat duty.

Fearful Last Missions

The men interrogated included 1,985 flying officers—more than half of them pilots, the rest navigators and bombardiers—and 2,519 enlisted fliers, mostly gunners.

Here's what else they reported: Thirty-three per cent of the officers and 42 per cent of the gunners were afraid on every mission or almost every mission.

Most fliers feared the last missions more than the early or middle ones. (At first, their fear was that they would show personal cowardice; but as they became more self-confident, the fear of death and injury increased.)

Fear was accentuated by "being idle when in danger," or by "being attacked when one cannot fight back."

Fear was lessened by keeping busy, making a good hit, "talking on the interphone, joking and hearing others joke," and by "seeing others calm."

Had Little Influence

Commendations or citations, flying pay, hatred of the enemy or a strong belief in the righteousness of our war aims had little or no value in controlling fear.

And here's what they said—it means to be scared when in a fighting plane:

It means your heart beats rapidly, your mouth dries, you sweat, you tremble, you have funny sensations in the stomach, and sometimes you lose control of bodily functions.

And afterwards, you're fatigued, restless, depressed; you overreact to loud sounds; and sometimes you have obsessive thoughts and bad dreams.

Dr. Shaffer said that the study "in showing the results of strong fear in normal men, may contribute something to an understanding of the role of emotion in the psychoneuroses."

HELD FOR AIDING STOWAWAY GIRL

Uniontown, Pa., Sept. 5 (AP)—FBI Agent Frederick A. Fletcher yesterday disclosed the arrest of William Paul Hogan, of Uniontown, in connection with the alleged illegal entry into the United States of a 21-year-old Belgium girl stowaway.

Hogan, a former merchant seaman, was taken into custody while at work in a local market. The FBI said the girl, Maria Louise Schroyens, had been arrested in Baltimore.

Fletcher said Hogan told him this story:

He had known the girl for two weeks in Antwerp, Belgium, and had aided her in getting aboard the S. S. Thomas Heyward as a stowaway. He was in charge of the mess hall and was able to get food to her. At New Orleans he helped get the girl ashore. They went to Mobile, Ala., where Hogan was discharged from the service, and then boarded a bus for Uniontown.

Fletcher quoted Hogan as saying "We first planned to get married, and then separated after coming here." The FBI agent said Hogan is charged with illegally transporting a woman in foreign and interstate commerce.

'I Should Be Shot,' Says Jap Puppet

Peiping, Sept. (AP)—Wang Yitang, former chairman of the Japanese organized North China Political Affairs commission, listened today to the reading of 12 charges of collaboration filed against him, then remarked simply: "I should be shot." He declined to answer any questions or to make any other comment. He will be sentenced Saturday.

FAR BEYOND THE MEMORY OF MAN

Many lines of work which were unknown a generation ago are now commonplace. The automobile mechanic, the radio announcer, the airplane pilot—all are products of the present generation. Other occupations had their origin far beyond the memory of man. Take pharmacy, for example, with its four thousand years of recorded history. We take considerable pride in being associated with a profession with such fine traditions. Pharmacy must be of fundamental importance to have so long endured.

NAME SLATES IN NEW YORK

(By The Associated Press)
A heated battle already underway over the New York governorship has moved into the formal stage with the Republican state convention putting up Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for another term and the Democratic offering Senator James M. Mead.

Democratic leaders tapped former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman as the candidate to try to hold Mead's Senate seat for their party in this fall's elections. G.O.P. chieftains settled on assembly leader Irving M. Ives to oppose Lehman.

Mead and Lehman were given the American labor party nominations Tuesday night at its New York city convention.

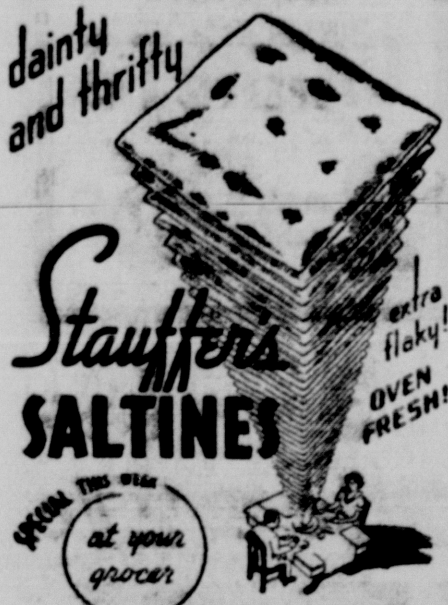

In Nevada's primaries, Rep. Berkeley L. Bunker beat Senator E. P. Carville for the Democratic nomination to the Senate. George Malone, Reno engineer, won the Republican nomination over a field of three.

Gov. Vail Pittman defeated S. W. Connell for the Democratic nomination as governor. With returns incomplete, Melvin Jenson led A. V. Tallman in a tight race for the Republican nomination. The Democrats nominated Secretary of State Malcolm McEachin to the House. He will be opposed by Charles Russell, Republican.

South Carolina's run-off primary gave J. Strom Thurmond, Edgefield lawyer, the Democratic nomination for Governor—tantamount to election—over Dr. James C. McLeod.

ROBERT S. FREY DIES
York, Pa., Sept. 5 (AP)—Funeral services for Robert S. Frey, 63, director of the Legislative reference bureau in Harrisburg and York county Republican leader, were held here at 3 p. m. Tuesday in St. Paul's Lutheran church. Burial also will be here.

Frey, stricken with a heart attack at his desk a week ago, died in Harrisburg hospital Sunday.

PHILADELPHIA FACING ACUTE MEAT SHORTAGE

Philadelphia, Sept. 5 (P)—Meat supplies in the Philadelphia area were dwindling rapidly today with 130 small meat packing firms in nine southeastern Pennsylvania counties shut down and 137 more were expected to join them by tonight.

Spokesmen for the meat packing industry said closing of the plants resulted from the inability of the packers to purchase livestock at present ceiling prices.

The Eastern Pennsylvania Slaughterers' association said the 130 small packers supplied approximately 600,000 pounds of beef, veal and lamb weekly to Philadelphia area retailers. A spokesman for the association estimated 367 other small packing firms probably will shut down at the close of business tomorrow.

Packing Houses Close

Meanwhile, three of Philadelphia's largest independent packing houses already have shut down. In addition, 167 independent meat jobbers, members of the Wholesale Meat and Provision Dealers association here, took their refrigerated trucks off the streets because they failed to obtain supplies from branch houses of western packers. Hotel and restaurant meat suppliers, hopeful of stretching present meager stocks through Saturday, cut deliveries 50 per cent.

William M. Paschall, president of the Wholesale Provision Dealers' cooperative here, said "if we do not get further shipments by that time—and it appears we won't—Philadelphia's 15 suppliers will close."

OPA officials assigned 40 agents to check livestock sales at Lancaster, Hatfield, Perkiomenville and Quakertown. The agents, however, reported only seven hogs were offered at Lancaster and a "negligible" number of cattle at the other places.

FREAK ACCIDENT

Beaver Falls, Pa., Sept. 5 (P)—Mrs. Ester Eazor, 58, a Gold Star mother, was killed in a freak motor car accident Tues. night as she attempted to leap from a rolling auto and was caught between the machine and a tree. Seated in the parked car, Mrs. Eazor had been waiting for friends when the emergency brake slipped.
